ODELL TAKES HAND IN THE STRIKE SITUATION

Conference With Operators Results Stormily; Will Use All His Efforts to Break the Strike; "I am the Governor of New York."

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—"What do you mean by politicians? I want you and all other operators to understand that I am the Governor of New York, chosen to represent several million of people and that I am here in this matter solely in that capacity and to relieve, if possible, an intolerable situation. And what is more, I intend to use ever power at my command to do it."

Governor Odell made this statement today to President Baer of the Reading Railroad, in the presence of Senators Platt, Quay and Penrose.

It was the culmination of a rather heated interview in the office of Senator Platt, the result of the first meeting between Governor Odell and President Baer.

Baer was not in the best of humor when, accompanied by E. B. Thomas, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Erie Railroad, he entered Platt's office.

The conference began by a statement made by Penrose that the situation was becoming so serious that some solution must be found at once. He suggested that the operators should incline to some concessions toward a settlement.

"If you mean by that," said President Baer, "that we are to recognize the existence of a labor union, I tell you right now the operators will consider no such proposition."

Governor Odell was on his feet in an instant. Holding a half-burnt cigar in his hand and white with excitement, he said:

"Are we to understand that no kind of a conciliatory proposition will receive consideration at the hands of the operators?"

"I did not say that," answered Baer, "but I do say, and I reiterate it, that we will not accept political advice or allow interference of politicians in this, our affair."

Then it was that Odell made the statement attributed to him at the beginning of this article.

Baer, evidently appreciating that he had gone too far, bowed to Governor Odell and said:

"Governor, I beg your pardon. No personal affront was intended, and we will listen to any suggestions you may have to make; but I again repeat we must refuse to recognize the union as representative."

LEASED FOR ANOTHER YEAR

HAGGIN HAS NOT BOUGHT THE RACE TRACK—W. C. LYNE HAS CONTROL—THE GLORIES OF THE PAST.

"The old Kentucky Racing Association track has not been sold and is not likely to be sold soon." So says Mr. Will Lyne, who has leased the grounds for another year from Mr. Green, and is making preparation to put in a crop for next year. In the agreement, however, between Mr. Green and Mr. Lyne it is stated that in case of sale and Mr. Lyne must give possession, he is still to have the crop. Mr. Green in a letter to Mr. Lyne said that Mr. Haggin had not bought the track, and, at present, there seemed no probability of its sale to him.

Mr. Lyne, while speaking, was watching the horses scoring for the big Transylvania stake. Turning round and facing the big crowd in the grand stand, he exclaimed: "There is no reason on earth why there should not be just as successful a running meeting at the old Association course as this trotting meeting is. I wish Mr. Haggin would buy it and relive the glories of the old place. The old Association died from bad management and a load of debt. Mr. Whitney revived Saratoga; Mr. Haggin can revive the Kentucky Association."

Mr. Lyne spoke with enthusiasm, and looked as if he would be willing to contribute his might to the undertaking.

WILL RIDE IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—One more competent jockey is to go to England.

It was announced today that Jockey Lucien Lyne, the Lexington lad, who made a reputation this season riding for the Drake stable, signed a contract yesterday to ride for James R. Keene in England next year. His salary, it is said, will be $20,000 and all expenses.

CAR STRIKE CRISIS.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—The crisis in the street car strike will come tomorrow. Governor Heard and Mayor Capeveille sought to effect a settlement today. The proposition was voted on by the strikers' union tonight and rejected by an overwhelming majority.

Tonight Governor Heard issued a proclamation against the unlawful assemblies on the streets and is warning the people to preserve order.

A conference is in progress at midnight looking to a disposition of the military forces in anticipation of an attempt to run the cars tomorrow.

Six companies of militia from the country will be rushed here by special train on orders that will probably be issued tomorrow morning.

A force of eighteen companies of eighty men each of citizen-soldiers was quietly formed today.

SERIOUS FIRE AT HOMESTEAD.

A. B. CHINN MURDERED AND SON WOUNDED BY MASKED BURGLARS

Appalling Tragedy at Prominent Home Occurs at 3:30 This Morning; Assassins Escape.

Mr. Addison B. Chinn, of the firm of Chinn & Todd, one of the most respected citizens of Lexington, was murdered by two masked burglars at his home, No. 248 East Maxwell street, at three o'clock this morning.

His son, Asa Chinn, Jr., was shot in the face and right arm and is dangerously wounded.

The young man may recover. The tragedy is an appalling one. In the quiet of his home, asleep and unsuspecting, Mr. Chinn was awakened by the two men who covered him with pistols and demanded money.

They were frightened by the son and fired the fatal shot, then turning on the son and wounding him.

The newly-made widow is grief-stricken and all but frantic.

From her disconnected sentences it was learned that young Asa had returned from the German about an hour when she was awakened by a noise of some one at the door. She awakened her husband who stated that it was only the wind.

Again she insisted that some one was in the house.

Two masked men entered the sleeping room. They wore green masks which completely covered their faces.

Mrs. Chinn believes they were white men. They were very small of stature and she could see no whiskers.

They said:

"Give us your money or your life."

Mr. Chinn answered that he never kept money in the house, but to search the house and take all they could find. Again they demanded money over the protestations of the husband and wife that none was in the house.

Mrs. Chinn began to scream, which awakened Asa, Jr.

He procured a rifle and groped his way through the hall to his parents' sleeping room.

He heard the villains' voices and fired, thinking the door was open.

The door was shut and deflected the bullet from its mark.

The burglars became frightened and fled.

They then opened the hall door and fired at Asa.

Two bullets took effect.

The elder Chinn fell to the floor on the hall just outside the door from his bed room. Asa staggered a few feet and fell.

WE HAVE COAL TO BURN

F. T. JUSTICE & CO. PHONES 252, 638

Mr. George Runyon, a brother-in-law of Mr. Chinn, who sleeps in the same house aroused the neighbors but the assassins had made their escape for the time.

The riot alarm at the police station was soon sounded for the first time in years and citizens and police who flocked in were stationed at every turnpike and railroad.

If it is in the power of human ingenuity the hell hounds who committed the murderous deed will swing from the yard of the Fayette county jail before the day is over.

fore another October fails

A search by the detectives showed that the men had gained entrance into the residence by forcing a side window on the east side of the house. They were evidently prepared for murder, as their masks and ready finger upon their triggers indicated.

In less than a half hour after the tragedy Drs. Barrow, Bullock, Lewis, Coleman and Willis were on the scene rendering all the aid possible to save young Asa Chinn, but before they arrived the corpse of Addison B. Chinn, who was loved and respected by every business man in Lexington, was cold in death. He was a prominent member of the Christian Church, an ex-Confederate veteran and a man of force and character. For the past ten years he has been in the dry goods business on North Upper street in partnership with Mr. J. L. Todd.

Asa Chinn, Jr., is about twenty-four or twenty-five years old, and is one of the most popular young business men in the city. He had just returned from initial german of the season, and had been in bed about an hour when he heard his mother scream and went to her assistance with the fatal result.

This morning's tragedy vividly recalls the unavenged murder of Jesse N. Hawkins on West Second street on the night of December 8, less than a year ago. A pall of gloom will follow in the wake of this foul deed. A city and State will mourn with the widow who lost a husband in the sanctity of his home, and the life of whose son still hangs in the balance.

Mrs. Chinn was before her marriage about thirty years ago, Miss Fannie Runyon. Her invalid mother, aged 95 years, lives with her.

Mr. Chinn was 58 years of age.

LITTLE SQUAW WINS THE 2:06 PACE IN FAST TIME

THE MONK TO START

WAGON RACES TO BE A FEATURE. ENTRIES FOR TODAY'S TROTS AND POOLING ON THE EVENTS.

TODAY'S PROGRAM.

- Amateur Wagon Race, 2:13 trotters; two in three.
- 2:11 Class, Trotting, Purse $1,500; two in three.
- Amateur Wagon Race, Free-for-all trot; mile dash.
- 2:14 Class, Trotting, Purse $1,000; three in five.
- 2:18 Class Trotting, Purse $1,000; two in three.

A splendid card is offered for the trotting meeting this afternoon. The feature is the 2:11 trot, in which horses of Transylvania caliber are entered. Charley Mc., on the strength of his showing in the big race Thursday, has been made the favorite, with Walnut Hall, the second horse in last year's three-year-old Futurity, a well played second choice. Other good ones in this event are Alice Barnes, Belle Kuser and Palm Leaf.

Two wagon races for amateur drivers are offered, and in one of them the public will get to see The Monk, the rival of Lord Derby. The Monk is entered in the mile dash and will have three rivals for first honors. He is thought to have a cinch on the race. The other wagon event is for 2:13 trotters and four are carded to go in this event. It is for the best two heats in three and will make an interesting contest.

The other two events are the 2:18 trot and the 2:14 trot, with thirteen good ones named to go in each. Dr. Strong is a heavy favorite in the former, while the latter seems to be an open contest, with A. J. D., Crescent, Beldia and Kellmont having almost equal chances to land it. The card is strong and as it is Saturday doubtless a large crowd will witness the sport.

LAST NIGHT'S POOLING.

The heaviest pooling last night was on the 2:11 trot, and Charley Mc. sold favorite at $30, the field $50. On the opening pool Charley Mc. sold for $50, Walnut Hall $20, Belle Kuser, Palm Leaf and Alice Barnes $10 each, Alan $5 and the field, consisting of Lilly Young, Van Zant and Bessie Owens, $3. About $3,000 went in on this race, Charley Mc. selling for $30, the field $50.

The pooling on the 2:14 trot was rather lively at times, but never very heavy. A. J. D. opened as favorite, selling in the first pool for $50, while Beldia brought $25, Crescent $15, Philip E. and Kellmont $10 each, Betsy Tell, Baron Bell, Black Lady, Cretones and Eyeline $5 each, and the field, consisting of Alfred Star, Joymaker and Earline, $8. Then A. J. D. sold for $25, the field $50. A plunge developed on Beldia, and A. J. D. sold lower. On the last pool the field brought $50, Beldia $25 and A. J. D. $15.

Dr. Strong was always favorite in the 2:18 trot, bringing even money against the field. The pooling on this event was not so lively as that on the 2:14 trot, but was heavier. There was no pooling on either of the wagon races.

The entries for today's events follow:

Amateur wagon race, 2:13 trotters, two in three—Dr. Book, Marique, Battleton, Joe Watts.

2:11 class, trotting, two in three—Charley Mc., Alice Barnes, Walnut Hall, Belle Kuser, Palm Leaf, Lilly Young, Alan, Van Zant, Bessie Owens.

Amateur wagon race, free-for-all trot, mile dash—The Monk, The King, Mabel Onward, Ida Highwood.

2:14 class, trotting, three in five—A. J. D., Crescent, Beldia, Betsy Tell, Baron Bell, Philip E., Kellmont, Black Lady, Cretones, Alfred Star, Eyeline, Joymaker and Earline.

2:18 class, trotting, two in three—Dr. Strong, Prince, Millard Sanders, Jim Fenton, Earl Wilton, Hall Frye, Blue Flower, Berkshire Chimes, Monticola, Daisy Wood, Lauretta, Lady Katherine and The Astronomer.

Fourth Day of the Trots Marked by Good Weather and a Large Attendance; Detailed Account of the Day.

Six thousand people were present yesterday afternoon at the trots and enjoyed the sport to the fullest extent. The weather was perfect and the track fast.

The feature of the day was the 2:06 pace, it taking seven heats to decide the race. The race was a closely contested one, the best time, 2:05 1/4, being made in the first heat. The sensation of the day came in the last heat of this race, when Little Squaw won in a drive from Prince Direct and won the race.

The Johnston, 2:24 class trotting, went in straight heats to the bay gelding Chase, 2:09 1/4, being the best time.

Mustard won the last two heats of the 2:15 pace and took the race, the bay mare being forced to go the second heat in 2:08 1/4.

In the wagon race Nicol B. finished third in the first heat, but took the following two and won the race. The following is a detailed account of the day's races.

THE 2:06 PACE.

In the first heat of the 2:06 pace Daniel took the lead and led under the wire by a length. Daphne Dallas was pressing hard at the half and three-quarters, but allowed Little Squaw to take second place, and finished third. Time, 2:05 1/4.

Daniel took the second heat of the 2:06 pace, winning without trouble from Little Squaw, with Fannie Dillard third. The heat was easily won and uninteresting. Time, 2:06 1/4.

In the third heat of the 2:06 pace the favorite, Daniel, was beaten by Little Squaw, who came into the stretch and won by a half length, with Riley B. third. Riley B. had the best of the start, but Daniel showed first at the quarter and led into the stretch, when Little Squaw came with a rush and won out. Time, 32 1/4, 1:03, 1:35, 2:06 1/4.

In the fourth heat of the 2:06 pace Little Squaw sold for $30 and the field at $200. Riley B. came from third place in the stretch and won the heat, Prince Direct second and Little Squaw third. Prince Direct had the best of the start, with Little Squaw second and Daniel third. Little Squaw had taken the lead at the half, with Prince Direct second and Daniel third. At the three-quarters Prince Direct led, Little Squaw second and Riley B. third. Little Squaw broke in the stretch. Time, 33 1/4, 1:04, 1:35 1/2, 2:07 1/4.

In the fifth heat of the 2:06 pace Riley B. sold at $100, the field at $120. The finish was a sensational one, Prince Direct taking the heat from Major Muscovite in a drive, with Little Squaw third. The Major led at the quarter and all the way around until overhauled in the stretch by Prince Direct, the latter having trailed in third place until he took the lead. Fanny Dillard broke going to the half and Riley B. and Carl Wilkes broke in the stretch. Time, 33, 1:04, 1:36 1/2, 2:07.

In the sixth heat of the 2:06 pace Prince Direct sold at $25 to $50 for the field. Little Squaw took the heat from Riley B. in a drive by a head, Prince Direct third. Daniel led to the three-quarters, having the best of the start. She was pressed to the three-quarters by Little Squaw, with Prince Direct third. In the stretch Daniel broke and Little Squaw took the lead and was hard pressed by Riley B., who came second.

POVERTY AND RICHES.

It is rare to find in the columns of any daily paper an editorial worth reading and re-reading, worthy of preservation. In the Commercial Appeal of recent date there was such an editorial, which we take the liberty of republishing in full. It says:

In his very able sermon delivered on Sunday, a synopsis of which appeared in yesterday's number of the Commercial Appeal, Rev. Dr. Thomas S. Potts took the position that poverty is neither a mark of goodness or greatness, unless one neglects accumulating in order to center effort on some good work; and that riches do not indicate evil, necessarily, and may be owned by the really good. He argued that it is every one's duty to provide himself with comforts, and intimated that the task is not an insurmountable one to any but the very few. Poverty brought about by sensual indulgence, by idleness, by carelessness or by one's own voluntary and vicious act is dishonorable, just as poverty brought about by the performance of noble deeds is honorable. Riches accumulated by thrift, sobriety, industry and good judgment are honorable, while riches accumulated by devious or cloudy methods are sinful and dishonorable.

To the ordinarily energetic and prudent there is little difficulty in providing the necessities of life, especially in the South where population is sparse and access to a fertile soil is easy. Of course there are the shiftless everywhere and there would be those in poverty and suffering in the garden of Eden. Poverty and riches are accidents of temperament and fortune, generally speaking. Yet there are those, thousands and millions of them, who are poor without hope of improving their condition. The sweat shop laborers of the large cities who toil until nature is taxed to the fullest extent, with a return sufficient only for a bare and starved sustenance, cannot hope to rise any more than he of great or no ability, who has not the congenial gift of money saving, can hope to accumulate. There are many men who find no difficulty in making money who find it impossible to save. They always see something they like better than money and so part with it. There is no mystery about accumulating. It can be done by producing more than one consumes or in expending less than one's income. The foreigners who come here and who have been accustomed to hard times always prosper.

But those who have are not always rich and those who have not are not always poor. We have seen people owning fine houses, presses full of fine clothes, and China, and rooms filled with fine furniture, living in poverty. What they possess was too good for use and they slept in the garret, lived in the kitchen, ate off oil cloth table covers and clayware and dressed dowdily for the purpose of hoarding what is really enjoyable and beautiful, only to die and leave it as surplus luggage which they cannot take away. We have seen people of ample means and good incomes watching the outgo of every nickel, as if it were a drop of their heart's blood and living in a state of constant alarm lest their hoard be diminished. The purchase of parlor suits and fine furniture "for company" and which one's own children dare not touch is one of the most stupendous follies of the day. The value of anything is determined by the use to which it is put, the comfort and pleasure which it gives. Poor Mrs. Tulliver, in George Elliot's "Mill on the Floss," bore up bravely when the crash came and saw with stolid courage the mill, the house, the land and household goods go under the hammer of the auctioneer; but when her private linen that came to her as part of her dowry, her napkins, tablecloths, towels, sheets, etc., which had lain since her marriage day in chests and presses, and which had never been used of any earthly use to her, were offered up, she broke down and wept bitterly. When anything is too good for one's self or his children Carrie Nation should be called in with her hatchet and the wreck and debris thrown in the trash heap. "The children are so destructive!" Marry, so they are, but they are using while they are destroying and use alone gives a thing value. Better use and destroy than leave unused and worthless. Increased accumulations do not always mean riches. Frequently they mean slavery added to poverty. If a man has ten hats and one hundred suits of clothes and we see him striving strenuously for more hats and more suits of clothes while working and sweating to keep what he has brushed up and in order, we would pronounce him an idiot; yet this is what people are doing every day who fret and fever and grasp for dollars for which they have no use. Whenever the possession becomes greater or better than the possessor, ownership is converted into servility and villenage.

Those who have not are not always the poor. Material things are not the choicest riches, although there are few who are willing to confer contempt or villipendancy upon them. Intellectual and spiritual destitution are what render human beings really pitiable. A man may have no carriage in which to ride, he can walk, and the exercise will benefit his health; he may have no pictures or mural paintings to pleasure him, he can look upon the clouds, the trees, the waters, the stars, the cerulean zenith and drink in original splendors as an anodyne; he may have no books, he can read the faces of his fellows and make original investigations and enjoy the thrill of creating his own interpretations; he may have no anthems, cathedral notes, swelling choruses or musical melodies, he can listen to the rippling of the water, the pattering of the rain, the song of birds and the sough of the night winds, or, as Thackeray did, get down on his hands and knees and listen to the tender messages which the flowers have to tell; his coat may be shabby, he can stand erect and burst superior through more haberdashery; his meal may be scant, so much the better for health and appetite; he may be isolated, a Selkirk, he can people his environment with creations of his imagination. Tasso was poor, and had to fawn upon and flatter the duke of Ferrara for a crust of bread, which he bolted in his patron's prison for a term of seven years, yet he bequeathed the world the priceless "Jerusalem." Bunyan battened on jail food and foul air for seven years; yet the value of his estate which he left the world, "The Pilgrim's Progress," has never been accurately computed. An English cardinal, a prince of the church, who lived in a "palace" died recently, and it was found that outside of his books, and furniture, suitable to a third class boarding house, his entire estate in material things was less than $500; yet all the Carnegies in the world can not bequeath to mankind anything that will equal in value "Lead Kindly Light."

Accumulations, however great, are mean and contemptible as compared to the priceless treasure of well directed effort. Effort is life and all that makes life tolerable. The man who fails and falls a thousand times, and who rises, bruised and bleeding, only to fail and fall again at last, in an effort to do good, to extirpate savagery from the human heart, to exorcise the devil of selfishness and to make life more beautiful and better, is richer than he who possesses the wealth of Ormus and of Ind. "Put money in thy purse," said wise old Polonius, and the admonition is as wise now as it was then, and the task less difficult; but the development of the spiritual side of man's nature is of even greater importance because when developed he cannot be poor.

BAILER LOST IN OIL WELL.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—Contractor Alex Sommers is undergoing a season of ill luck. He had drilled the Sinking Creek Oil Company's well on the Standfill lease to a depth of 400 feet, and today the bailer was lost in the bottom and could not be taken out. A new hole has been begun and will be sunk as rapidly as possible. The well was almost to the first sand when drilling had to be stopped.

TO BORE FOR OIL IN LESLIE.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—It is understood here upon good authority that operating for oil in Leslie county will begin soon. Some large companies will work on Middle Fork and Red Bird's rivers. This is a part of the Kentucky oil field that has not been tested at all. The country is very rough and it will be a difficult task to get machinery over the high hills and through the rough bottoms. The Standard Oil Company has some leases in Leslie besides several other strong concerns.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—J. J. Hoblitzell has begun another oil well. It is on the Jim McDonald farm, about three miles up Richland Creek from this place. He has drilled in six wells during the short time he has been in the field and none of them has been dry.

Sec. 7. George S. Shanklin, L. G. Cox, R. P. Stoll, J. R. ## SORE NECK

Take Scott's Emulsion for scrofula. Children often have sores on the neck that won't heal up. The sores may come and go. Parents may not know what's the matter nor what to do. Scrofula is the trouble and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine.

Scott's Emulsion heals the sores. But that is not all. Scrofula leads to consumption. This is the real danger.

Scott's Emulsion is the "ounce of prevention" that keeps off consumption.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

There is one certain way of curing indigestion and stomach trouble, that is; give your stomach a rest but still eat plenty of good food to keep up the nourishment for your body. You can do this by using KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE because it is the one preparation which digests what you eat without aid from the stomach. Nature will then repair your worn out digestive organs and restore them to healthy condition. It relieves that feeling of fullness, belching and distress after eating. I suffered with dyspepsia a great many years. I tried many remedies without relief until I used KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE. My health has improved and I now feel like a new man. S. J. Flemming, Murray, Neb.

It can't help but do you good
Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The 81 bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 50c. size.

When you need a soothing and healing application for piles, and skin diseases, use DeWitt's Witch Hazel SALVE. Beware of counterfeits.

BLOOD WINE

KILLS DISEASE GERMS

It is true that "Blood Wine" is a wonderful medicine. Wonderful, because of its great breadth of cures. "Blood Wine," soon to be America's most widely known and popular medicine, kills the germs of disease that are in the blood. All diseases that have their origin in the blood or that are spread by germs, come under the curative powers of this great French discovery. "Blood Wine" is the medicine for you to get today; take it now, before the diseases of winter weather are upon you; before you are in the grasp of rheumatism, grip, lung trouble, kidney disorder and many other diseases so common to the American people. ## READ LIKE MIRACLES

Mrs. Irving Mack, of Cambridge, Mass., says:
"I had the grip, and it left me a perfect wreck. My appetite was all gone, my nerves were all unstrung. I was wasted to a skeleton. Everybody said to me, 'You look like a ghost.' I couldn't sleep. I struggled against my sufferings, despite their growing intensity, but I failed completely, and I made up my mind that unless I soon received help I must die. The medicines I took seemed to do me no good, and I was truly a pitiable object. I was white as a sheet and so weak I could hardly walk along the street without staggering. My friends were constantly telling me that I had consumption or some mysterious incurable disease. At length, through the blessing of Divine Providence, I heard of the discovery of a medicine which would do wonderful things. This medicine was 'Blood Wine.' I sent for some of it and began to take it, and the result was simply marvelous. As true as I live, that medicine alone entirely cured me and made me a well woman. Lots of my neighbors who know all about it will stand by me in everything I have said. My health now is excellent and I do my work with a light heart and a strong body."

CURED OF CONSUMPTION

"Last winter I caught a cold which settled on my lungs, and for weeks I was unable to get out of the house. As spring drew near, the cold wore off, but left me with a rasping cough, which caused me the greatest alarm. Nothing seemed to stop it; physicians told me that I had developed consumption, and that they could do little for me, except to make my life easier unless I should go to another climate. I was very weak, my skin feverish and my appetite absolutely gone. A friend advised me to try 'Blood Wine,' and from the very

CURES RHEUMATISM

Because it removes the poisons from the blood. It abstracts the acids; dissolves the crusts about the joints and stops the pain. Read the following from Mr. F. S. Talmadge of 78 Woodside St., Springfield, Mass.

"My son Elton had suffered for a long time with an aggravated case of rheumatism, which caused him most intense pain, and which daily grew worse in spite of careful medical treatment.

"Many remedies were suggested, and were given a careful trial, but without good result. A friend recommended 'Blood Wine,' and although our experience with other preparations had been such as to cause us to doubt whether it would benefit him or not, we were delighted to find that, after Elton had taken two bottles he showed signs of improvement; and now, after having taken several bottles more, he is well and strong again. I cannot say too much in favor of 'Blood Wine,' and heartily recommend it to all suffering from rheumatism."

first it helped me. My strength came back slowly but surely. I began to enjoy my food. Life became worth living, and today I am absolutely well."

WAS ALMOST DEAD WITH KIDNEY TROUBLE

He also had liver complaint and was a total wreck. This was the condition of J. R. Siskles of Tiffin, Ohio, when he ran across "Blood Wine." He says:

"I have been a sufferer from general debility, liver and kidney complaint, chills and fever, headache and lameness of the joints, cold hands and feet. I was a physical wreck; had been treated by some of as good doctors as could be found, and taken nearly all kinds of patent medicines, but it all availed nothing. I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to find a cure. This is a case of twenty years' standing. I got so far gone that I could not work more than six or eight hours per day, when I would become perfectly exhausted. I was recommended by Messrs. Clynne & Larey to try 'Blood Wine,' which I am glad to state has proved very satisfactory. I have gained strength, health, vigor, and am able to carry on my daily labor with the greatest ease. I would say that if this should reach the eyes of any sufferers from such complaints they should try 'Blood Wine,' which is a safe and a sure cure, full of toning value, without danger of disturbing the action of the heart or stomach."

AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—The Lady won the feature event of the card today at Worth, in an exercise gallop from Eva Rice, the despised outsider at 50 to 1, with La Coleta third and the old Derby winner, Pink Coat, who was favorite, last. This was the largest amount known to have been placed on one Transylvania winner, and his cash in was the largest recorded at the betting stand this season. ## DEATH OF ONWARD

GREAT TROTTING SIRE DIES AT PATCHEN WILKES STOCK FARM OF ACUTE INDIGESTION.

The great trotting sire, Onward, bay stallion, foaled in 1875, by George Wilkes, dam Dolly (dam of Director 2:17, etc.), by Mambrino Chief, owned by Peter Duryea and W. E. D. Stokes, the New York millionaire real estate man, died at Patchen Wilkes Farm yesterday of acute indigestion. A. Smith, the noted New York sporting man and stakeholder, who is the guest of Mr. Duryea, saw the horse die and declared that he never witnessed a gamer struggle against the inevitable by man or animal than that showed by Onward.

Onward up to last year had sired 124 trotters and 34 pacers in the list. His sons have sired 246 trotters and 208 pacers and 57 of his daughters have produced 63 trotters and 28 pacers in the list. Onward was the sire of such stars as Beuzetta 2:06½, Onward Silver 2:08,

HONORS

FOR LEXINGTON DELEGATES AT DETROIT CONFERENCE—COLONEL BRECKINRIDGE DRAWS RESOLUTIONS.

Mayor H. T. Duncan returned last night on the late train, on the Cincinnati Southern, from the strike conference at Detroit. The Mayor and Colonel Breckinridge were members of the Committee on Resolutions. He says that this committee was considered too large and a sub-committee of seven was appointed, to draft the resolutions. They were drawn by Colonel Breckinridge, and adopted by the sub-committee as he had written them. In the full committee the resolutions were opposed, but after an explanation from Colonel Breckinridge they were adopted. When they were reported to the convention, they again met determined opposition because they were not sufficiently radical nor sufficiently severe on the coal operators. Again Colonel Breckinridge explained matters in a speech more elaborate than that addressed to the committee. The result was the adoption of the resolutions with only three dissenting votes.

Senator Mason, of Illinois, who was a conspicuous member of the convention, warmly congratulated Colonel Breckinridge, when the convention was over, upon the part he had taken in it. When Colonel Breckinridge left Detroit yesterday morning, he was met at the depot by a large number of leading citizens and given an ovation. The Detroit Journal, an evening paper, contained this mention of Kentucky's representative:

"Colonel Breckinridge, who represents the conservative element, would offer no plan. He claims to have ideas of his own as to the proper measures, but so far has contented himself with sounding the note of warning against infringing on the legal rights of the mine owners. He is positively against the seizure of the mines and believes that such measures would establish a bad precedent."

The races will be started promptly at 12:30 today on account of there being five races on the card.

COMMITTEE CHANGES

Hon. Allie Young, chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, was in the city yesterday ostensibly to attend the trials. Really, however, he had been invited to come to Lexington by Mr. Hedger, the district committeeman, to talk over the situation in this city. Of course the presence of these two gentlemen in the city on the same day caused a good deal of comment, and rumor had it that the Fayette Democracy was to be reorganized.

There was no doubt about Mr. Hedger, of Scott county, having declared his intention of fixing up a committee for the Democrats of Fayette county. There is no doubt that he is in the city now for that purpose, and that he will execute that purpose, unless prevented by a higher authority or by the presentation of stronger reasons than those that have so far been offered. He said as much to sundry persons. Mr. Young, however, does not approve of unreasonable or unnecessary changes in the personnel of the committee.

On his arrival in Lexington, Mayor Duncan was informed of what was going on. He at once was driven to the Leland Hotel, where he met Mr. Young and had a long talk with him. The result of it was that he (Mr. Young) agreed that unnecessary changes in the committee ought not be made. He thought too, that the county committee ought to be composed of men who were on good terms with the other men whose names are on the Democratic ticket to be voted for next month.

The Mayor replied that Mr. Young that the registration just concluded, indicated a large Democratic gain and had been secured under the management of the present county committee.

Mr. Young stated that he would go away today, so that if any conference between him and Mr. Hedger takes place, it must be done this morning. The committeemen occupied the same room last night at the Leland.

Rev. U. G. Foote, the new pastor of Hill Street Methodist Church, will occupy the pulpit at both morning and evening services tomorrow.

CRIMINAL TERM COMES TO END

CASES DISPOSED OF IN THE CIRCUIT COURT YESTERDAY—FISCAL COURT NEWS—GENERAL COURT NEWS.

The criminal term of the Fayette Circuit Court came to an end yesterday, the court adjourning until October 21st, when the civil term will begin.

Little interest was taken in the cases disposed of yesterday, although in disposing of them some interesting legal questions were raised.

James Gallager was put on trial for house breaking, but owing to a defect in the indictment he was acquitted.

For Alvin Maupin, jointly indicted with him, and who had been similarly acquitted for a similar reason, his attorneys pleaded former trial and acquittal as a bar to this trial.

It appeared that the grand jury had made two attempts to find an indictment that would stick against these defendants and had failed in each instance. While the plea of former acquittal as a bar to this trial was overruled, the court did not feel like holding the prisoner until another grand jury should indict him. The court had no doubt that an offense had been committed and a serious one, but under the circumstances, he would not feel justified in holding him on that charge.

Colonel Allen said: "Very well, I do not intend to let this man escape punishment, and if Your Honor dismisses this case, I shall have him arrested immediately upon another charge."

The court therefore ordered the prisoner to be released from custody. As he stepped outside the court room door, he was re-arrested by Lieutenant Stough, acting upon orders from Colonel Allen. He was taken immediately before Squire John B. Payne, and a warrant was sworn out against him for robbery. Upon this he was arrested and sent to jail.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Simmie Quinn, charged with injury to the property of the Southern Mutual Investment Co., he was fined $10 and costs, by confession. The company relented and declined to prosecute.

So were the cases of Wm. Martin and Frank Turner, the former for leasing a house for unlawful purposes, and the latter for house-breaking. The bail for Turner was reduced to $100.

FISCAL COURT.

The Magistrates met and passed upon claims.

A brief session of the Fiscal Court was held yesterday morning in the county court room. There were present: Judge F. A. Bullock and Squires Gorham, Herndon, Skinner, Oldham, Graves and L. D. Payne.

After the minutes had been read and approved Squire Graves, from the Committee on Accounts, reported the classified list from the Auditing Committee, which was passed and the accounts ordered paid by unanimous vote.

The court voted $500 to the Associated Charities on condition that they assist those worthy of assistance within a radius of a half mile from the city.

The court then adjourned.

Bogus Check Case.

In Squire Herndon's court Thomas Speaks, of Jessamine county, was to have had his examining trial yesterday for attempting to pass a bogus check for $90 upon Joe Elvoo. The case, however, was continued until this morning.

County Court Orders.

On motion of William Sullivan, Wallace Minor was appointed and qualified as administrator of Catherine Sullivan, deceased, with J. J. Riley as surety.

Trial of Dr. Morse.

The trial of Dr. P. B. Morse, of Valley View, charged with imposing on the Phoenix National Bank in the matter of worthless checks, did not have his examining trial yesterday. It was continued until Monday morning.

Real Estate Transfer.

STUART ROBSON

Stuart Robson made the hit of the local season at the opera house last night in his revival of Bronson Howard's masterpiece, "The Henrietta." It is on account of his work as Bertie, the Lamb, in this play that Mr. Robson came into great prominence as an actor. His creation of this unique character will always live as one of the classics of the American stage. This season Mr. Robson has provided himself with an elaborate production of the play, one that will leave a lasting impression. He has also surrounded himself with the best company he has ever had. Of this support Mr. Edwin Holt was most prominent, as Nicholas Vanelsteyne. Excellent work was also done by Mr. Clifford Leigh, Mr. Joseph Keefe, Miss Elenor Barry and Miss Frances Mayo. The large audience was applauding appreciatively—much more appreciative than the star was of the applause of his audience.

FOOTBALL TODAY

This afternoon at the K. U. ball park on West Fourth street the foot ball team of Kentucky University will line up against the visiting team from the University of Nashville. The struggle will be a battle royal, neither team having been scored against thus far this season. The reputation of Kentucky University will be pitted against the reputation of the University of Nashville. All Lexington, except the trotting element, will witness this struggle of brain and brawn—this battle of giant against giant. On the one side will fly the crimson—the oft-victorious crimson—on the other, garnet and blue will be waved by the admirers of Nashville. As the 5:20 train last evening came to a stop, seventeen splendid athletes stepped from the platform and followed the lead of the reception committee to the Leland Hotel. Their coach, Mr. Neal W. Snow, was careful to see that the boys were served only with foot ball diet at supper. They retired early to rest from their long journey.

The K. U. team, the strongest the old University has ever sent forth, practiced only signals yesterday afternoon, and were in bed by 9 o'clock.

The following is the line-up of the teams:

MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 10. — Wheat opened steady today, chiefly on foreign news, but the feeling early in the session was one of weakness. Receipts in the Northwest were larger than at the same time last year, and this fact, combined with the favorable weather, were bear features. Trading was light during the first part of the day. December opened a shade higher at 69½¢, but on commission house selling a slight decline followed, the price dropping to 69¼¢. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 903 cars, which, with local receipts of ninety-one cars, with one of contract grade, made total receipts of 994 cars, against 909 cars last week and 1,013 cars a year ago.

Lower cables and continued good weather West and Southwest caused a weak opening in corn. The volume of trade was lighter than that experienced lately, with commission houses again on the selling side. The buying was scattered. December opened a shade to 1½¢ lower at 48¼¢, but there was not enough support to the market to maintain the price, which soon declined to 47¾¢. Local receipts were 123 cars, twenty-nine of contract grade.

Oats opened easier in sympathy with corn and on favorable weather. Outside of a fair market for May, which steadied prices, the market lacked any special features. December opened unchanged at 32¼¢, but sold down to 31¾¢. Local receipts were 162 cars. Provisions were easier on still lower prices for hogs and trading was light. Commission houses offered January pork quite freely, which weakened values. January pork opened 5¢ lower, at 15.60; January lard was 2½¢ lower, at 18.80; with ribs 5¢ lower, at 18.17½¢.

THE CLUB WOMAN.

See the woman going to the club!
It's a good-bye to the kitchen range and tub,
For the lecture season opens, Music, History and Astronomy,
How to catch on to Nirvana and Political Economy,
Lectures on the Awful Whyness of the Wherefore and the Where,
Lectures on our Local Posts with a chromo of hot air,
While the husbands, oh, the husbands, all are taking to the woods,
Or they kiss the cook for policy or live upon canned goods.

See the women going to the club!
Hubby views the glad procession, and it's come right to the rub;
He will never see his wife from dawn till midnight chimes,
She is reading little papers and she's having awful times.
She is making homes for others, but she makes no home for him;
She is sewing for the outcast whom the flames of fate have signed,
While he goes around in sadness with his trouser legs all fringed.
And the soulful winter season as a howling fake he dubs,
As he utters imprecations on the clever, clubby clubs.
—Tattler, in Louisville Times.

A NEW TEXT

SOUTHERN PREACHER GIVES FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Coffee works in many different and unsuspected ways. Mr. E. L. Wesson, pastor of the Baptist Church of Sardis, Miss., writes:

"I loved coffee from my infancy, and never knew of it hurting me until I was 33 years old. I suffered with headaches if forced to do without it, and sometimes used it three times a day, but headache had been one of the ills of our family, and therefore I thought it was an inherited evil for which coffee was a special remedy, but about nine years ago I began to suffer from sleeplessness, which continued until it seemed as if my nerves would wreck for want of sleep, and yet I could not sleep.

"A friend suggested that I quit coffee except for breakfast, which I did, and so found that I could sleep a little better, but my headaches continued, and my nervous system would sometimes seem as if the very fibres of my flesh were moving within me. It went on until three years ago I began to suffer at night with an itching sensation on my limbs below my knees and on my arms below the elbows, and sometimes all over my body, but there was no eruption on the skin; the flesh was smooth and white. I consulted several good physicians, but with no avail.

"I had no idea that the coffee I drank in the morning caused it, but finally decided to stop coffee for a while, and try Postum Food Coffee. Wife made it according to directions, so that I liked it equally as well as coffee. I had no idea that it would relieve the awful itching deep down in my flesh, but thought I would try it to see if there was any virtue in it. I had used it only a few days, when I discovered that the itching was not so severe. When I had used it ten days, my wife said, 'What is the matter with you? You do not seem to be troubled with that itching sensation.' I told her that I did not know what was the cause, but I knew that I was not troubled with the itching any more and was thankful for it.

"I then went over to preach in another town, and while there drank some strong coffee, and the itching returned. When I came back home, I commenced using Postum again, and the itching ceased. Then I decided that coffee in some way produced the itching. I drink Postum three times a day, and rest as well as I ever rested, and never have headaches any more. I believe that hundreds of preachers who suffer from indigestion, nervousness and worry, would find rest and health if they would quit coffee and use Postum."

to Friday. All are asked to be present at the next meeting as important business will be discussed.

The following announcement cards have been received here:

Mrs. Eugenia M. Humm announces the marriage of her daughter, Susan, to Mr. Lewis Butler Herrington Wednesday, October the eighth, nineteen hundred and two,

Richmond, Kentucky. At Home after October the tenth, Macon, Georgia.

Engagement Announced. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Lyon announce the engagement of their niece, Miss Ida Lyon Wood, to Mr. Harve R. Moore, of Marion, Indiana. The marriage will be celebrated Tuesday afternoon, November 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyon on East Main street. Miss Wood is an attractive young woman of Maysville, having come here a year or two ago to make her home with her uncle. Mr. Moore is a prominent business man of Marion with one of the large art establishments.

In notes from Paris the following is clipped:

"So much license in individual taste is allowed brides nowadays that everywhere one is greeted with the information that they may wear anything."

"Bride textures," says the dress-makers—the ones whose opinions count for anything—"why, any white material may be worn by a young girl; and the list includes everything from the most expensive to the most inexpensive stuff."

"Lyons satin, we are told, is still the prime favorite with brides who contemplate smart church weddings, and who can afford the handsome laces this rich material involves. The old-fashioned grosgrained silks come next, then soft finished taffeta, plain and embroidered chiffon, Brussels net and point d'esprit. An all-over lace wedding gown is considered very splendid, and such costumes are usually in Princess style with black lacings. They are worn over several petticoats of chiffon or net, which in turn cover a silk skirt. The bodice has also this gauzy interlining, which produces a more delicate effect than if the lace came directly against the silk."

"Wedding trains are still extremely long—four yards in some swagger cases—and preferably cut round at the bottom. A light interlining of cotton batting is used to give the plain silk and satin ones a look of solidity; and with such trains a very elaborate dust ruffle of chiffon or mousseline is the only trimming. Trains in more airy textiles may be trimmed to the highest notch, an arrangement in flounces, running up at the back like an apron overskirt, being one charming method used with a point d'esprit frock."

"As for the bodice, it is high and long sleeved as usual, with an unlined lace stock generally finishing the throat. If the stock is dispensed with, the neck is only cut out slightly, say an inch or two below the stock line. And deeper décolletage is only allowed brides who have taken the interesting leap before—window-brides, in short."

"And now for two stockless wedding frocks that you may see what Fashion is doing in the orange blossom direction. Both were imported by a well known falseuse for brides whose nuptial bells will ring out the last of this month and the first of next."

The Louisville Times says: "Several names have been added to the published list of debutantes. The additions include Miss Elise Womack, daughter of Major and Mrs. J. M. Womack. Miss Womack is a blonde of charming personality and will prove a delightful acquisition to the social life. Miss Pauline Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brent Cooke, will also come out. Like her sister, Miss Lydia Cooke, she is extremely handsome and vivacious. Another acquisition will be Miss Elizabeth McMichael, daughter of Mrs. Florence McMichael. She is an attractive brunette."

Mrs. Arthur Cary and Miss Clara Bell entertained informally yesterday afternoon at their home on East Main street in honor of Mr. G. E. Palmer and the friends on his coaching party. After the races the party drove to the Bell home and spent the remainder of the afternoon delightfully with the hostesses. The guests were: Mr. Palmer, General and Mrs. John B. Castle-

INTERESTING MORTGAGE

HOUSE AND LOT ON SOUTH UPPER STREET CONVEYED TO NELSON HARMON BY THE BIBLE COLLEGE.

The following interesting mortgages were put on record in the County Clerk's office yesterday morning. The parties in the first mortgage were the trustees of the College of the Bible of Lexington, Ky., and Nelson Harmon, of Scott county, Ky. This indenture is:

Witnesseth: Whereas, said second party and his wife did, on the 23rd day of May, 1901, convey to the parties of the second part an undivided half interest in 29-32 parts of a tract of land in Bourbon county of 220 acres, the other portion of same being conveyed by said second party to the Kentucky Female Orphan School of Midway, Kentucky, jointly with the party of the first part, and,

Whereas, said second party did donate in cash to the endowment fund of said Bible College the sum of $2,500 and, in consideration of both gifts said first party did, by a written agreement, dated the 23d of May, 1901, agree and promise to pay to said Nelson Harmon the sum of $50, at the end of each month, from the date of said agreement, until the death of said Nelson Harmon, at which time said monthly payments are to cease; and

Whereas, for the purpose of securing said monthly installments, a lien was retained in the deed from said second party to first party, on said tract of land, and

Whereas, the said first party, since the date of said agreement, to-wit, on the 8th day of October, 1902, sold and conveyed said land to another party, and the said Nelson Harmon is to release his lien of record securing to him said monthly payments. Now, in consideration of the foregoing, and of $1.00 cash and for the purpose only of securing and guaranteeing the said party of the second part, in the payment of said monthly installments, the party of the first part does hereby convey to said second party in mortgage a house and lot on South Upper street, adjoining the Bishop property.

MIDWAY ORPHAN SCHOOL.

The Kentucky Female Orphan School of Midway, also, in consideration of Nelson Harmon and wife conveying to one-half interest in 220 acres of land in Bourbon county, and donating $2,500 to the endowment fund of said Kentucky Female Orphan School, on condition that the institution should pay to Nelson Harmon during life $50 a month, a lien having been retained on the land for its payment, and for the further consideration that:

Since this conveyance of the land and donation of the $2,500 to the endowment fund were made, the land has been sold and conveyed to another party, and to secure said Nelson Harmon in the payment of the monthly installment of $50, Kentucky Female Orphan School conveys to him, in mortgage, a house and lot on Short street, adjoining the Fayette National Bank, in the city of Lexington, being the building now occupied by C. C. Patterson as an implement store.

GOV. ODELL

sented by Mitchell.

"I believe," said Governor Odell, "that your position from a public view is absolutely untenable. If the coal operators, railroad men and other business men can combine for mutual profit and protection, there is no reason why laboring men should not."

"What is the proposition?" said Baer, coldly.

"Just this," said Governor Odell. "I am sure the labor organization of which Mitchell is the head desires him to be fair with the general public. If the operators consent to give the men five cents a ton increase, I will personally present it to the miners, and I believe they will accept it. It is a fair proposition."

"Does this mean, Governor Odell, that we are to recognize the miners' union?" Baer asked.

"It certainly does," answered Governor Odell, quickly, "and there is no reason why you should not."

Baer and Thomas rose to go, Thomas remarking that the matter would be presented to the other operators and that an early answer would be forthcoming. Baer said:

"We are to meet a committee of the Manufacturers' Association on Tuesday and we may have an answer then."

The conference broke up, Baer and Thomas withdrawing. Platt, Penrose and Quay talked over the matter for a short time and then they, too, separated, the two Pennsylvanians announcing that they would go back to Harrisburg and discuss the situation with Governor Stone.

Governor Odell was not in a talking mood when he left the conference. He went directly to the Fifth Avenue Hotel and during most of the afternoon received callers. Mayor Low, Anson G. McCook, Edward Lauterbach, Congressman Lesser and Littauer and Senator Platt were among the callers. To one of these the Governor said:

"The coal operators may postpone this matter until Tuesday, but I don't propose to postpone it. They are not acting fairly towards the people. I believe I shall find some remedy."

About five o'clock, John Mitchell, accompanied by L. N. Hammerling, of Wilkesbarre called and had a long conference. While this was going on a dispatch announcing that the operators had refused to consider the terms offered by the Governor was received.

When the conference was over Governor Odell refused to say what had occurred, and Mitchell was equally reticent. It is believed that Odell presented his proposition for a settlement to the leader of the miners' union and that Mitchell said he would present it to the district presidents, in the hope that it would be accepted. Governor Odell said:

"Mitchell was eminently fair and showed every disposition to adjust the serious situation."

Today's conference between men in official positions and President Baer and Chairman Thomas was absolutely barren of results. According to statements made by the operators, the prospects of a settlement is no more promising than yesterday. There is nothing to justify the assertion that negotiations will be resumed next Tuesday. As one of the coal presidents put it, "the incident is closed."

"The publicists," said this gentleman, "made a number of suggestions, all of which we turned down. What their next step will be I cannot say, but they understand we cannot be moved. I repeat, we will not meet them again."

Another operator said: "It is not for us to consider mere matters of political expediency. If the so-called statesmen had kept their hands off, this strike would have been settled long ago. We have taken a stand for principle and no amount of argument will budge us."

J. P. Morgan, who conferred with several of the operators during the day, would not discuss the latest developments, but it is known he has not swerved from his purpose not to become a party to the controversy.

CHORUS GIRL DROWNED

A tragedy in the King Ping Pong Company occurred early yesterday morning en route to Louisville on the steamer Hanover. Mrs. James T. Kelly, one of the principals of the chorus and wife of a leading man of the organization, jumped overboard. Her husband tried to prevent the act and leaped after her in an attempt at rescue, but without avail.

The boat was stopped as quickly as possible and a skiff was put out, but the searching party was also unsuccessful. It is evident the woman was drowned, and there is no hope that she reached shore. She was fully clothed, and there was little chance for her to make the bank, even if she knew how to swim.

The jump was made right after a tiff with her husband, and the evident purpose was suicide. It was so dark that the woman was not seen after the leap.

BIG FOUR WRECK.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—The east-bound Big Four freight no. 90 ran into the rear of freight No. 72 about the center of the Wabash river bridge tonight. The caboose on the front train was split and fell into the river, and the engine and one car loaded with poultry were completely wrecked.

Matthew Hennessey, of Mattoon, Ill., conductor, and an unknown man in charge of the poultry car, were killed.

CHICAGO RIOT.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 10.—(Associated Press.)—Two labor riots occurred here today, and several persons were injured. In one quarter five hundred men and girls blocked the streets around the Ritchie Box Factory, at West Van Buren and Green streets and struggled with the guard of blue coats in an effort to reach the girls, who had taken the places of their striking sisters in the plant. In the ghetto more than a score of the striking bakers, assisted by several hundred of their friends, precipitated a riot.

CUTTING AFFRAY IN CARY'S SALOON.

John McAfee was slashed over the right eye by Charles Taylor in Ike Cary's saloon on Water street at midnight. Taylor was arrested. The wound is not serious. A cutting occurred in the same saloon the night previous.

KENTUCKY NEWS

There may be a contest as a result of the Democratic primary at Paducah, Wednesday. The vote fell several hundred short of the registration of the day before.

The Fourth Congressional District Educational Association will hold its semi-annual meeting at Springfield October 17 and 18.

Squire W. W. Jesse, a Union veteran, of Shelbyville, had a musket ball removed from his head just above the left ear. He was shot at the battle of Perryville, October 8, 1862, and has carried the ball in his head for forty years. The operation was performed successfully.

The residence of John L. Burks, about five miles from Harrodsburg on the Lexington pike, was destroyed by fire. The family had a narrow escape.

Henry Jarrell, one of the most noted weather prophets in northern Kentucky, says according to the goosebone and corn shuck signs we will experience one of the severest winters for a number of years.

The returns from registration for the three days show a decidedly favorable condition for the Democrats in Louisville. The total will exceed 41,000, in all probability, and the Democrats will have a plurality of 8,000. The only surprise is the large number of independent voters, there being about 5,000.

Deputy United States Marshal Press Jackson arrested James Morton and Robert Messer, of Menifee county, charged with operating a moonshine still in Powell and Menifee counties. The deputy destroyed the plant, containing 5,000 gallons and 60 gallons of singlings.
